ALLEN REAM EARNS CERTIFIED GRADUATE BUILDER EDUCATION
DESIGNATION

May 31 2008, Columbia Falls, MT Allen Ream has been named to a select group of home builders who have earned the Certified Graduate Builder (CGB) designation, identifying him as one of the industry's top professionals.

Administered by the National Association of Home Builders.

"I'm very proud to have earned this designation," said Allen Ream, President at Montana Heritage Home Builders.

To earn the CGB designation, builders must successfully complete a curriculum that incorporates training by leading building industry practitioners and experts on a range of topics, including business management, emerging technologies and market trends. In addition, the builder must have at least two years' experience in the industry.

After earning the CGB, program graduates are required to sign a code of ethics and maintain their designations by completing 12 hours of continuing education every three years.

"This CGB designation gives me additional knowledge and training to better serve home buyers here in Northwest Montana," said Allen.
